

CRIME INVESTIGATION — SUSPECT PROFILES

Case Reference: HYD-2025-DT-0089

Total Suspects: 8

Each suspect profile begins with 'SUSPECT: Name' as required by the Crime Investigation DSS.

SUSPECT: Farhan Qureshi

Farhan Qureshi, age 34. Manager of Club Neon, Jubilee Hills. Arrested at the club during the raid. Rs. 14 lakh cash found in his office in a false-bottom drawer. CCTV shows him exchanging a bag with an unidentified individual in the club parking at 10:30 PM — 45 minutes before the raid. Encrypted messages on his phone reference drug quantities and collection schedules. Has been in contact with known network members — phone records show 47 calls to Vikram Shetty in the past month. Prior case of possession of narcotics in 2020, charges dropped due to lack of evidence. Financial records show cash deposits of Rs. 8 lakh in personal account over 6 months with no legitimate income source to explain them. No alibi defence — was present at the scene of the raid. Strong motive: financial gain from managing the nightclub distribution point for the network.

SUSPECT: Vikram Shetty

Vikram Shetty, age 39. Owner of a transport company operating commercial vehicles across Telangana and Andhra Pradesh. The truck (TS-09-GH-4421) used to deliver the drug consignment to the Balanagar warehouse is registered to his company. Phone records show 47 calls with Farhan Qureshi and 22 calls with a number linked to the Mumbai distributor over the past month. Arrested at the Balanagar warehouse during the raid. Claims he was there to collect payment for a legitimate delivery — cannot explain the drugs found. Cryptocurrency wallet on his laptop shows Rs. 45 lakh equivalent in transactions. Prior case of GST fraud filed in 2023, currently under investigation. Financial records show lifestyle inconsistent with declared business income. Strong motive: network organiser using transport business as cover.

SUSPECT: Ravi Naidu

Ravi Naidu, age 52. Local political party worker and associate of a sitting MLA. CI-047 and the approver witness both independently named Ravi Naidu as the individual providing police protection to the network in exchange for monthly payments. Phone records show contact with Vikram Shetty on 16 and 17 October 2025 — two days before the raid. Claims he has no connection to the network and the calls were about a political event. Cannot produce any evidence of a political event on those dates. Has no prior criminal record — which is consistent with his role as a protector rather than a direct participant. Financial records show cash deposits of Rs. 12 lakh over 12 months with no clear legitimate source. Motive: regular payment from network for protection.

SUSPECT: Suresh Pillai

Suresh Pillai, age 27. Warehouse worker arrested at the Balanagar warehouse. Found physically present with the seized narcotics. Has agreed to turn approver and provided a detailed statement naming Vikram Shetty as the network organiser and Ravi Naidu as the protection provider. Statement independently corroborated by phone records. Claims he was employed as a daily wage worker and was unaware of the full scale of the operation — knew he was handling contraband but not the quantities involved. Prior case of petty theft in 2019. Motive: financial need — was paid Rs. 500 per day for warehouse work.

SUSPECT: Ananya Reddy

Ananya Reddy, age 31. Chartered accountant who handled accounts for Vikram Shetty's transport company. Under investigation for potential money laundering through the company's books. No direct evidence of narcotics involvement. Cooperating with financial forensics team. Claims she prepared accounts based on documents provided by Vikram Shetty and was unaware of fraudulent transactions. No prior criminal record. No narcotics connection. Alibi for the raid night: confirmed at a family function in Secunderabad from 8 PM to midnight, verified by 12 family members and video evidence. Financial forensics investigation ongoing — low direct suspicion for narcotics.

SUSPECT: Imran Shaikh

Imran Shaikh, age 44. Mumbai-based distributor suspected to be the upstream supplier of the drug consignment. Not arrested — absconding. Phone number linked to Imran appears in Vikram Shetty's call records 22 times. CI-047 identified Imran as the supply chain source in Hyderabad's network. Known to narcotics authorities in Mumbai — has two prior cases of drug trafficking, one conviction resulting in 3 years imprisonment (released 2022). Lookout notice issued. Last known location: Mumbai. Strong motive: financial profit from interstate drug supply network.

SUSPECT: Deepa Krishnan

Deepa Krishnan, age 26. Bartender at Club Neon. Present during the raid. No drugs or cash found on her person or in her work area. States she had no knowledge of the manager's activities. Multiple colleagues confirm she was working the bar the entire evening and had no interaction with the manager's office. Club CCTV confirms her movements were confined to the bar area throughout the night. No prior criminal record. No financial irregularities. No evidence of involvement. Fully accounted for. Low suspicion.

SUSPECT: Mohammed Faiz

Mohammed Faiz, age 32. Driver of the commercial truck TS-09-GH-4421 that delivered the drug consignment to the Balanagar warehouse. Arrested at the scene. Claims he was hired for a routine vegetable delivery by Vikram Shetty's company and was unaware of the contraband hidden in the crates. Phone shows one contact with a known network member 3 days before the delivery — claims this was regarding delivery schedule only. No prior criminal record. Financial records show no unusual deposits. Approver Suresh Pillai's statement does not specifically name Mohammed Faiz as a knowing participant. Investigation ongoing — partial suspicion as driver of the vehicle used in the crime.
